Project Type: Fully Managed IT Service Contract and Cybersecurity Improvement
Location: Scotland

Background

Bowercross Construction Ltd (BCL) is a long-established construction and civil engineering business headquartered in Scotland, with a proud 35-year track record of delivering complex major projects across the UK. Specialising in the Rail, National Grid, Nuclear and remote infrastructure sectors, BCL has built a reputation for technical excellence, safety-first delivery, and uncompromising quality standards.

Operating in highly regulated industries where compliance, data integrity and operational resilience are non-negotiable, BCL recognised the need to modernise its IT foundations to match the calibre of work it delivers in the field.

The Challenge

Like many established construction firms, BCL had grown organically and so had its IT. Support was reactive rather than proactive, cybersecurity controls were fragmented, and business critical systems were not keeping pace with the company's ambitions or the compliance demands of its clients in rail, nuclear, and national infrastructure.

The leadership team had identified several priorities that needed to be addressed under one unified strategy.

- Move from reactive to proactive IT support
- Consolidate vendors
- Strengthen cybersecurity posture
- Support workforce growth
- Improve document management

BCL needed a technology partner who could think strategically, deliver operationally, and maintain the standards expected by clients in some of the UK's most safety-critical sectors.
